the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995 (Department of Health 1996).

There is a growing emphasis on the importance of the public sector in the provision of health care, and the need to ensure that it is able to meet the needs of the population (Department of Health 1996).

The public sector is also becoming increasingly important in the provision of health care, and the need to ensure that it is able to meet the needs of the population (Department of Health 1996).

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1996). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The United Kingdom has a number of government departments and agencies that are responsible for the care of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health is responsible for the overall policy and strategy for mental health care. The Department of Social Security is responsible for the provision of social security benefits to people with mental health problems. The Department of the Environment is responsible for the provision of housing and social services to people with mental health problems. The Department of Transport is responsible for the provision of transport services to people with mental health problems. The Department of Education is responsible for the provision of education services to people with mental health problems.

The Department of Health has a number of initiatives to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Mental Health Act 1983 was amended in 1995 to give people with mental health problems more control over their own care. The Mental Health Act 1995 was introduced to give people with mental health problems more control over their own care. LUNCH. . .

There exists a period of approximately thirty minutes during the approximate middle of the school day when classes are not in session in order to give the teachers time to hustle down to the Teachers Lounge and get some well deserved rest. However, something had to be found to keep the students occupied during this time. Casting around for ideas, the Administration came up with this thought: Why not have the students eat lunch during this time, thereby keeping them out of trouble. Although LUNCH has never been included in the Activities section of the Coronal before, we feel that it deserves to be placed in this section. Actual calculation shows that each student spends at least ninety hours every school year eating lunch. This shows that it is one of the most time consuming non-educational activities participated in by the student body at this school.

BAND

This year, as in past years, the Girls' League sponsored a Hush Bow Day.

Rudy Arguelles received the title of Mr. Irresistible.

ALMA MATER

Let our voices loudly ringing,
Echo far and near
Songs of praise thy sons are singing
To Corona Dear.

Years may dim our recollections,
Time its change may bring,
Still thy name in fond affection
Evermore we sing.

CHORUS

Alma Mater—Old Corona
Tender, fair and true.
Grateful sons, with love unailing,
All their vows renew.
